The Perona of Argentina are celebrating fourth anniversary of political power. Beautiful Señora Peron stood beside her husband as workers staged a mass "loyalty" demonstration for the fourth anniversary of the Argentine Revolution. It was just four years ago that Peron was released from military prison.

fire disaster, Mayor H. E. McCallum has announced. Mayor said it would require several months to complete the investigation. The fire broke out in the States over the top of the city. The fire was caused by a gas leak from a gas stove.

Armed Forces

Newfoundlanders should make splendid soldiers in the Canadian Army. One young Newfoundland recruit started sweating it out even before he joined up. He was 30 pounds overweight when he tried to enlist. Three weeks later, he was 150 pounds and was operating a machine gun at the recruiting office, minus the 30 pounds. Now he's in the army. Nobody knows how he did it.

The Arts

Provincial art schools should be established to permit recognition of potential artists in Canada. E. Lindner, Saskatchewan artist and teacher, says students with potential creative talent have no chance of being recognized unless they live in "one or two places" where there are artist-teachers.

Manners & Morals

British husbands are not beating their wives according to Hove, complaint Lady Helen Nutting who heads British Women's Association. Old status permits chivalry of wives with sticks no larger than the little finger. Some British husbands are operating under rule-of-thumb idea of their own. Lady Nutting wants old law revised.

Atomic Age

Radio isotopes form greatest weapon for medical science since invention of microscope, according to Dr. G. R. Guest, who heads health radiation branch of National Research Council's atomic energy project. Dr. Guest said isotopes are now being used to determine spread of yellow fever by mosquitoes.

Navy-Army Feud

U.S. Air Force heads will hit back at the navy before House Armed Services Committee. Air Secretary Symington and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg say the navy approved, utilized and financed the navy's and then did a run-out. Airman also contacted their P-47 jet before fighter can pass the navy. Vandenberg says it was standing still. Navy heads previously claimed Bantane was making claims of gain B-26 bombers.

Education

American school kids think of the Mounties when they think of Canada and that about all they think of as far as the Dominion is concerned. This has been revealed in a joint report to Canada-United States committee on education by Canadian and American university professors. Canadian youngsters know little or nothing about the United States.

Disaster

Toronto may erect a memorial beacon overlooking the harbor in memory of those who perished in the recent Noronic disaster.

U.S. Seeks Last Try Steel Strike Solution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Government labor officials decided today on a big, final fling at trying for voluntary settlements in the steel strike.

It was strongly indicated that if Cyrus K. Young, the Federal mediator in charge of the steel industry, moves he has planned for this week, he will turn to the big strike problems over to President Truman.

DECISION TRUMAN'S

Then it will be up to Truman to decide if and when he wants to employ the emergency powers of the Taft-Hartley labor law, including strike-breaking court injunctions, or industry seizure under the emergency service law.

As one step in his planned all-out drive to get strike settlements without more drastic government intervention, Young arranged to meet in New York tomorrow with officials of the U.S. Steel Corporation.

The main stumbling block in the steel strike is the refusal of paying for worker pensions. Steel companies want workers to pay for their own pensions. John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers' union wants the employers to foot the whole bill. The steel firms and Murray are still at odds. The industry will pay up 10 cents an hour a worker for pension-insurance costs. The question now is whether the workers will pay up an additional amount from their pockets.

Ching also is expected to take quick action toward bringing matters to a head in case John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers' union and coal operators refuse to resume negotiations for a new contract this afternoon at White Sulphur Springs and Bluefield, W. Va.

Strike in B.C. Hits Lumber

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18.—(CP)—A strike which will affect British Columbia's lumber export trade was ordered last night by the 28th member lumber inspector's union (CCLA). Date of the walkout will be set today.

The move followed union rejection of conciliation awards suggesting a 10-per-cent wage increase. The hourly wage is $4.87.

The strike will affect the export of lumber from the coast of British Columbia, beginning this evening. The union says the strike is to force the employer to accept a 10-per-cent wage increase.

The inspectors are employed by the employer-operated, non-profit Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau which operates throughout the Pacific northwest and Alaska. The inspectors certify lumber being exported.

The union will ask the CCLA-affiliated International Woodworkers of America and the International Longshoremen's union to consider all work normally handled by the inspectors as "hot."

Birthday Plane Gift For Stalin

PRAGUE, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Alberto Bruni will give Marshal Josef Stalin an airplane as a present on his 70th birthday, Dec. 21.

The Communist newspaper Pravda said today. Employees in the "aero" factory will work without pay on the first Sunday in November to pay for the birthday plane it said.

NEW EVIDENCE FOUND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(CP)—Discovery of "conclusive evidence" that far-northern Canada was inhabited by "a race of intelligent" was announced yesterday by the Smithsonian Institution.

The announcement was based on the finding of pictograph records on whale-bone in stone ruins on the island, 600 miles north of the Arctic Circle and almost directly south of Winnipeg.

The discovery was made this summer by Dr. Harry B. Collins, Jr., of the Smithsonian staff, and J. P. Milner of the National Museum of Canada, while probing the ruins of four ancient villages in a region now entirely uninhabited.

They estimated that the villages were built more than 500 years ago by the Thule, a nomadic, half-civilized tribe of Eskimo, which had its origin in northern Alaska.

The relics included a whale-bone "snow knife," inscribed with the pictorial story of a whale hunt and showing a typical Eskimo "umiak" in which four hunters are shown in a broad-based whale — a mammal now extinct.

Other pictographs show seal-hunters, caribou and geese, proving the Thule were accomplished artists.

The scientists also found a combination stone and pottery lamp.

Murder Details Told In Court

asked her husband, according to Robbins' testimony.

"No, but I got it," Hayes is alleged to have replied, apparently referring to the money.

Just before this conversation, Mrs. Hayes made a reference to a "butter knife," the crown prosecutor stated. He did not enlarge on this cryptic statement.

IN SHALLOW GRAVE

Later McKay's body was dragged to the back yard and buried in a shallow grave eight feet from the back door.

Robbins and Hayes were hotel guests here in 1923, when they did not see Hayes again until the day before the slaying.

The pair drank together for the two days following.

Dressed in a brown sweater, shirt and tie, the paint-faced woman sat impassively in the box. Throughout most of the testimony he sat with arms folded, head resting against the back of the prisoner's seat. From time to time, he got concerned as details of the slaying were revealed.

GOT DETAILS FROM WIFE Detective Sergeant Joseph A. Wray called the case by the name of the initial investigation leading to the arrest of Hayes. He was called into the case by Sgt. J. E. Peterson of city police after the afternoon following the killing.

At the city police station the officers interviewed Mrs. Hayes. After the interview, he proceeded to the Hayes home in company with other RCMP officers. There they discovered the body in the shallow grave.

Later in the afternoon they arrested Hayes as he returned home in a taxi. He had been drinking but was not drunk, Detective Sergeant Wray testified.

On being told he was under arrest, Hayes only remark was: "The hell."

He was found to be in possession of the murdered man's wallet, watch, and key in each pocket. In the house, a pocket knife and key belonging to McKay were found.

According to the Robbins testimony, Hayes cannot break before the slaying.

Objection was entered as trial resumed today by defense counsel G. M. D. Blackstock to the inclusion of close photographs of the slain man taken as the grave was being opened.

Today's testimony and Norman Wells on the Mackenzie river, will back in 30 above temperatures.

Mr. Innes said he is proud of his school teaching experience, which is a training of use to a mayor.

Premier Lashes Critics Of Alta. Oil Policy

Hon. E. C. Manning hit hard at critics of the government's oil policy when he spoke last night on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's "Provincial Affairs" broadcast.

Mr. Manning said the provincial oil policy had been successful in "seeing that development is carried on under regulations designed to fully protect the interests of the people," while at the same time being fair to those willing to invest their capital to make such development possible.

Replying to criticism by provincial Liberal leader Harker, Mr. Manning said the government was selling to foreign companies the right to exploit Alberta's resources, Mr. Manning said.

"If the millions of dollars which have flowed into this province to develop our oil resources had gone into our neighboring provinces and Alberta had been left out, I can well imagine the clouds of condemnation which these same politicians would have levelled at the Social Credit government."

Other government officials who will be heard on Provincial Affairs broadcasts are Hon. David A. Ure, minister of agriculture, Nov. 7; Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of mines and minerals, Nov. 28; and Hon. Dr. W. C. Mackenzie, minister of public health, Dec. 5.

Gas Export Still Year Off—Tanner

Provincial Minister Tells Coast Meeting Of Plans

Alberta's natural gas won't be exported to other provinces or to the United States for at least a year, Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of mines and minerals indicated yesterday.

Mr. Tanner, addressing the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy convention at Vancouver said the Alberta government will need a year at least to determine whether reserves of natural gas in the province are adequate for export.

Alberta's natural gas reserves must be proven to be in surplus quantity before natural gas can be shipped to the coast, he told the meeting.

Legislation approved at the July special session of the Alberta legislature provides that gas export companies cannot be licensed by the provincial government until gas surplus in the fields they intend to use is proven.

Last week, officials of West Coast Transmission Company said Alberta government license to permit the company to export gas from Northern Alberta to Vancouver was expected by December 1.

New Outlook For Tourist Trade Urged

HALIFAX, Oct. 18.—(CP)—Director D. Lee Dean of the Dominion Travel Bureau and today the man selling Canada to tourists should know his business better.

In an address prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, Mr. Dean warned that United States friendship is a more important goal for tourist boosters than United States dollars.

SEVERAL PROBLEMS He urged his listeners not to rest on the 1949 record, pointing out the most successful tourist season Canada has ever enjoyed.

But, he said, the industry still requires improvement—notably arranging better eating and highway travel facilities.

Denial of foreign currencies "is going to make far-seeing lands more attractive from a price standpoint than the American market."

Although this picture "may seem dark," limited transportation would forestall any thought of a "tourist ship" as a more important goal for tourist boosters than United States dollars.

This season, American visitors spent some $300,000,000 in the Dominion.

FRIENDSHIP NEEDED "We are sorely in need of American dollars, but I would not like to base our tourist trade on a dollar after dollar," he commented.

"It is not for that reason alone that we invite people to come to Canada."

"We have what is a greater need—the friendship and understanding of the people of the United States."

Part of a national tourist policy should be "continued improvement in the highway system of this whole country."

Historical areas have not been developed sufficiently and greater is needed in forest and wildlife conservation, he said.

Mercy Bullet Unnecessary

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A 15-year-old boy and the sufferings of his younger brother, in a story after an accidental shooting, was not responsible for his brother's death, an autopsy report disclosed today.

Dr. Frederick Newburg, county autopsy surgeon, found that the first bullet, which destroyed half the brain of Robert James Elliott, caused his death and that the second so-called "mercy shot" might not have proved fatal.

Robert's brother, Richard, tearfully told police that the 23-caliber revolver he had bought from a high school pal for $6 had accidentally gone off while he was demonstrating it to Robert. The bullet struck the victim in the back of the head.

"I couldn't stand to see my brother suffer, so I fired another shot into him," said Richard. His wounded brother was groaning in agony, he said.

Bogus Money, Taken in B.C.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18.—(CP)—Police today held a 29-year-old Vancouver woman in custody, charged with being in possession of counterfeit bills.

The woman, identified as Betty Haney, was arrested Sunday in a west end rooming house. Police found $449 in 10 fake banknotes in her room.

Discovery of the $449 represents the largest bogus money cache recovered by police here in an investigation into a reported country-wide attempt to flood the market with some $2,000,000 in fake bills.

The money was believed to be the result of the rise and fall of distribution in Canada's major cities.

Large quantities were actually distributed at the Pacific National Exhibition here. Smaller quantities were discovered by police in Toronto, Hamilton and Windsor.

Fish In Storage Down In October

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(CP)—Cold storage holdings of fish in Canada totalled 47,869,000 pounds on Oct. 1. The Bureau of statistics reported yesterday. That's a decrease from the 49,690,000 pounds in storage Sept. 1, but an increase over the 43,217,000 pounds held on Oct. 1, 1948.

The stocks include 44,429,000 pounds of frozen fresh fish and 1,340,000 pounds of frozen smoked fish.

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The United States automobile industry is operating on a time as far as its steel supplies are concerned. Shutdowns of three weeks and more starting early next month are not unlikely.

This was the word today from an authoritative source inside the industry.

STOCKS DWindle The car and truck makers had a four to six-week inventory of steel when the steel strike began. But they have been eating deeper into these stocks and replacements have been cut off.

A top industry executive, who asked that he be not identified, said:

"An important thing that seems to be overlooked is that if we keep going and use up all the steel we have on hand it will take three or four weeks to secure up enough more to permit resumption of car and truck output."

SHUTDOWNS INEVITABLE "Shutdowns of three weeks or more are inevitable for many of the car companies if steel does not start to come through again by next Monday."

No one auto maker wants to admit his steel position is any worse than that of his competitors. But most car and truck companies, especially among the "Big Three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have been producing at record levels for many weeks. Most of the GM and Chrysler divisions have been working overtime to complete their 1949 model runs.

DELAY POSSIBLE One of the effects of assembly line shutdowns next month, besides idling several hundred thousand auto workers, would be to delay new model changovers by October, and possibly Ford, which produces some of its models for export, car and truck output.

PC's To Meet

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(CP)—The executive of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada will meet here Oct. 21 and Nov. 1 and party organization plans are expected to be the main topic of discussion, it was learned today.

4 MOUNTIES GRILLED IN NARCOTICS TRIAL

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18.—(CP)—The long-drawn, grueling cross-examination of four RCMP officers continued here yesterday as the trial of 10 men, charged with conspiring to distribute drugs, resumed following a week-end adjournment.

Much of the sharp questioning by 10 defence counsels was directed at Cpl. Harold Price, a member of the narcotics squad, who was charged with being in possession of a hotel room, which was the scene of a conversation of John Smoker and Benny Ugar.

name of the accused in an adjoining room.

Claude Maclepie, appearing for Dan Gaspert of Hamilton, Ont., drew from Cpl. Price an admission that the connecting door between the two hotel rooms were not "thin doors" as had been indicated at the preliminary hearing.

Cpl. Price also said that no trace of narcotics was found in the adjoining room when he searched it. Accused are Gaspert, Carmichael, Mike Cushman, Irving O'Leary, and possibly Ford, which produces some of its models for export, car and truck output.

Much History Lost to West With Pioneers

SASKATOON, Oct. 18.—(CP)—The Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences saving today into its final day of hearings in Saskatoon with views before it on everything from the marking of historic sites to the speech of radio announcers.

The commission, under chairmanship of Mr. H. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto, received seven submissions from interested groups yesterday. Agreement was fairly general on several topics.

The Saskatoon council of home and school associations favored the continuation of the present system of radio broadcasting in Canada, but expressed the view that the CBC should be in a position to "choose the best without thought of profit or loss."

National film board drew praise from the council. The library association urged more adequate financing for the NFB.

The Saskatchewan Archaeological Society submitted that much valuable material now is being lost with the dying out of the first generation on the prairie.

K. Lindner, a Saskatoon artist and teacher, said only one or two places in which competent artists have been discovered. He proposed establishment of a provincial art school.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Here's another worry for Hollywood—President Truman is not much of a movie fan. Through an official source, I submitted a list of questions about the president's entertainment habits. Here, in part, is the reply:

"I hate to disappoint you, but there is little I can tell you about the president's movie habits. The reason is that he is not very much of a movie-goer.

"He likes to see a new movie now and then in the movie projection room of the White House. Usually present with him are a few members of the White House staff."

STUDIO BARRIERS

From reader Don McManis of Toledo come some pertinent remarks on barriers against tourist visitors by film studios:

"Industry has learned that it is not wise to have any publicity come from tourists. It is better to have the publicity come from the studio itself."

"I have no authority and little influence in the film industry, but if I had some of either I would send every effort to open the gates to all tourists and other visitors."

"I am sure that the industry will keep people outside. The guards who now block the way might well be used as escorts on conducted

Export Advice for U.K. To Come From Canada

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(CP)—Canadian industrialists are entering the ring to help fight the United Kingdom's dollar boycott. Answering an urgent appeal from Britain, the industrialists are banding themselves into a sterling-dollar board to advise U.K. exporters on how to make greater sales in Canada.

James S. Duncan, president of the Massey-Harris Company, has been named chairman of the board. He is expected to announce names of his associates today.

At the same time, Trade Minister Howe is expected to make a statement on the board's functioning at a press conference.

Chief function of the board, it is understood, will be to coordinate the work in Canada of Sir Graham Cunningham's export dollar board in the U.K.

The Canadian sterling-dollar board will advise British exporters on the kind of goods Canadians are likely to buy, the prices they will pay, how to sell in Canada and how to make the best use of advertising schemes.

The old part of the plan is that in many cases Canadian industrialists will be advising their British counterparts how to sell in markets that for the most part they would like to keep for themselves.

Nightly Crying Is Red-Eye Producer

The other night at Lindy's, I had trouble reading the small type on the menu.

"Can you recommend a good eye doctor?" I asked Milton Berle who was sharing my table.

"I know a pip," said the television comedian. "I'll tell you in a minute whether you're a man of vision—or whether the reports have been exaggerated."

The next day I dropped in to see the optician.

"I don't know if it means anything," I said, "but of late the electric lights have been bothering my eyes."

"You mean," said Berle's doctor, "that as far as you're concerned, Maeda's in the cold, cold ground?"

"Looks as if Milton pays you off in jokes," I said.

"The optician adjusted the metal disc on his forehead peered into my peepers and then put me through the read-the-last-line-backwards routine.

"All kidding aside," he said, "you have an unusual malady. The only people who get it are men and women. It's known as overstrain, and it's caused by living in the Twentieth Century."

"My eyes get bloodshot now and then," I said.

"Don't brood about it," said the doctor. "If your enemies don't shoot until they see the whites of your eyes, you can count on a long life."

QUITE REASSURING

"Very reassuring," I said, "but isn't it serious when the blood that's supposed to go to your head goes to your eyes?"

"Not necessarily," said the optician, "and to prove this point, let me tell you a story that Berle told me recently."

Not long ago, Milton met up with an old friend whose eyeballs looked like chunks of overripe watermelon.

"Where'd you get the bloodshot eyes?" asked Berle.

"It's a grim story," said his friend. "One night while back I was standing at a bar, minding my own business, when a girl breezed in, brassy, wearing a catchy kisser and a chaise longue, she looked like a bunch of nice girls, and so I invited her to have a drink."

MUCH IN COMMON

"Well, it turned out that we had as much in common as we both liked cocker spaniels, convertibles with the top down and pizza pie with anchovies. So, when dinner time rolled around, I suggested we have a snack together, and by the time we had finished our crepes suzettes, I was so taken with her that I invited her to see 'South Pacific'."

"And to show you how much I thought of the girl, when she accepted I went out and found two tickets to 'South Pacific'."

"After that," I said, "her every night. We would die at 21, dance at El Morocco, and when the town

U.K. to Outline Food Needs Soon

Canada Expects Statement For 1950 In Two Weeks

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(CP)—An important British Food Ministry statement is expected to reach the Canadian government within two weeks, outlining what Britain will purchase from Canada during austerity-bound 1950, informed sources said yesterday.

The statement likely will disclose the amount of food the United Kingdom will spend for such commodities as bacon, eggs and cheese, but will contain no specific schedule of prices to be paid for each item.

FUTURE TALKS

Prices Britain will pay are expected to be worked out later at Anglo-Canadian food conferences to be held both in Ottawa and London.

The U.K. statement may not be made public by the Canadian government until the Dominion-Provincial agriculture conference meets in Ottawa Dec. 14.

However, it is understood reductions are in store for purchase of bacon and eggs, but that Britain will continue to buy large quantities of Canadian cheese.

H. H. Haines, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, commenting on the food conference, said western farmers "are getting anxious" about the prospects of selling to Britain. He would be glad to hear of early completion of Anglo-Canadian negotiations.

LESS BULK-BUYING

With smaller U.K. bulk-buying in prospect, wider price fluctuations loom on the Canadian food business. To offset this, the government may try to increase the flow of Canadian foodstuffs to other foreign markets.

Here, in brief, is the way the Anglo-Canadian food contracts shaped up for 1949:

Wheat—Canada has a contract to sell 140,000,000 bushels at $2 a bushel to the U.K. during the 1949-50 crop year ending next July 21.

Bacon—140,000,000 pounds at $2 a hundredweight. Shipments are expected to fall short by more than 100,000,000 pounds.

Cheese—12,000,000 pounds delivered at 20 cents a pound.

46 MILLION DOZEN

Eggs—About 46,000,000 dozens at approximately 43 cents a dozen. The entire contract is expected to be filled, with the exception of a small section of the contract which the U.K. switched to the U.S.

Salmon—400,000 cases at a total price of $7,500,000 now in the process of delivery.

Apples—About 600,000 barrels from the east and west coasts at a total price of $3,000,000, with the Canadian government paying half.

Chief Justice E. A. McPherson termed the shelling as carelessness of the greatest kind. He said he could not understand how an experienced hunter could have done such a thing.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 18.—(CP)—The Manitoba court of appeal in a unanimous decision yesterday found John S. Simons, of Sylvester, Man., Liberal member of parliament for Springfield, negligent in a hunting accident. It reserved judgment on damages of $31,410 claimed by William Demko of St. Owens, Man.

Demko claims the damages as a result of the blinding of his 18-year-old son, Lloyd Demko, in a hunting accident Oct. 25, 1947 near Grubers Corner, Man.

Trial evidence showed that Mr. Simons, young Demko and another man were shooting in a swamp at Grubers Corner. The two men took up positions on either side of the swamp. During the afternoon a flock of geese came into the swamp and Demko and Mr. Simons moved toward them.

Milk Prices Wobbly As Increases Asked

By Bea Thrifty

We're winding up for another fast spin in that vicious circle of high cost of living.

This round our motors will run on a potential increased cost of milk to the consumer.

Public Utilities Commissioner G. M. Blackstock has announced a public hearing on the subject of further milk price increases. Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary and Medicine Hat producers are all vying for more money... money... money...

I know this will create a storm of protest.

And I am after thinking my cracked contrail will be right in there with the rest of the women who think milk already is quite expensive enough thank you.

Heating insufficiencies in office buildings, homes, stores cause a vast number of those dreadful sniffles, stuffy heads and watery eyes which are the most commonplace outbreaks.

No! The human for the distant promise of spring, a loud wail for the passing of summer and a loud wail for the arrival of winter.

Spent many an hour wandering about the Better Homes display at exhibition grounds yesterday and was alternately disappointed and amazed.

Dealing with the disappointment first... there wasn't really anything so very startlingly new in the entire array. Another was a tremendous number of displays of paint cans 'n' such.

But I was happy at the clamouring through the small model bungalow.

Mind you there was an odd something here to 'n' change but the overall effect was charming and was a tremendous number of displays of paint cans 'n' such.

The living room, birch-panneled boasted a synthetic stone wall, large all printed on the walls, was a study of charm and graceful living. Furniture tones in red and green splashed colors over the plain grey rug.

The pale violet corded walls of the master bedroom framed to perfection the pale green ceiling panels and pale green quilted tafetta bedspread.

Yellow-tiled kitchen, compact looking and centrally located utility room were check marks on the honors list.

Best space savers were the windows, framed in flat picture frames rather than jutting sills.

Trips of that extra four or five inches of space on each window wall... very fine idea what!

Dresses, furnishings, stoves, lamps and centrally located utility room were check marks on the honors list.

Child Must Learn Limits of Play Space

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Every mother wants her child to be able to play outdoors without close, personal supervision. Yet she is frantic if the child wanders away—without good reason.

The time to teach a child to play alone and in his own yard, is when he is first out to play. If he is allowed to stray all over the neighborhood under the protection of an older child, when that child no longer accompanies him, he still retains the habit of wandering away from home.

When the child is first given the privilege of playing outdoors, then his mother must make clear the responsibility which accompanies it. "You may run from here to the back yard," she should say, thus marking, positively, the limits of his freedom to play. The word "may" is not strong enough to protect him from the affirmative suggestion, "in the street," so refrain from mentioning it. Concrete suggestions where, instead of where not to play, work best with small children.

Then tell him the penalty. "If you go beyond these bounds, Mother will have to bring you in to the house."

If a child wanders away, suddenly, then the mother who has been watching should go instantly and bring him back and in the house, no matter what his protest. "You can play outdoors only when with play when Mother tells you."

It's futile to say it won't work with your children. And don't say a spanking, for that is a feeble weapon to lean upon. Children soon discover they can have the pleasure of running away even if they have to suffer a spanking.

Spanking worked, then something less drastic would, too. No small child should be put

WHY GROW OLD

Some Skin Too Sensitive For Soap and Water

By Josephine Lowman

Some skins cannot tolerate soap and water cleaning. If the skin is very dry and thin and sensitive, it may be lovelier if it is cleaned with cream.

This can be a very thorough cleansing. Be sure that the cream is fairly soft. If you live in a cold climate, or in winter time, place the cream near a radiator.

It penetrates better when warm. Massage it in gently and leave it on for a half hour or so. You may require two or three cleanings if your face is very dirty from dust or grime.

Many women run into difficulty when using soap and water on their faces because they do not select the right kind of soap. As a rule, if you have a very sensitive skin, you will be wise to buy a soap which is neither color nor scented, although this is not an iron clad rule by any means!

Best soaps for skin are good and the lanolin soaps are splendid for a dry, sensitive skin. Many women now slip into their handbags supply of shaving soap. These are usually mild and soothing. I hesitate to mention this because there is enough trouble now in the family bathroom, with another sometimes borrowing father's razor.

If your face is very oily, wash it several times a day with soap and water. If it is dry, use cleansing cream, or be sure of your selection in soap. There is a fine super-mild soap which is beneficial to dry skin. Also wash your face in soft water.

If you would like to have my leastest about skin care, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 47, "Your Outer Costume" to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Wife Justified When She Keeps on With Job

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is getting along well, but has not yet reached the goal he has set for himself. I have a pleasant position, doing just the sort of work I love and we are both wonderfully happy, but my relatives feel that I am disgracing myself and reflecting on my husband's ability to support me because I go to business.

The claim that I am keeping some girl out of a position who needs it more than I, I claim that my husband comes first, and that it is my duty to help him all I can. Also, the more money we earn, the more we can save and the sooner we can afford a family. Am I right?

Mrs. S. T. G. ANSWER: I consider that you are perfectly right and that the way a wife helps her husband is her own affair.

If she can help him more by earning money than by doing his cooking and washing and ironing, she should keep on with her job. But husbands have come to take it as my duty to help him all I can. Also, the more money we earn, the more we can save and the sooner we can afford a family. Am I right?

Also, husbands have come to see that there are many women born with talent for some line of work, and that it is not fair to ask such women to give up the careers in which they are successful to do labor for which they have no turn.

Jury Investigates Death on Railway

RED DEER, Oct. 18.—At a coroner's inquest conducted by Dr. W. A. Carter, into the death of John Kingston, 71, an open verdict was returned.

The jury found that Kingston came to his death on the afternoon of Sept. 27, 1948, at approximately 1:30 p.m. on the C.P.R. right-of-way, west of the RCAF residence, and that he died of death by trauma and injuries received apparently after he had been struck by a locomotive.

Raid Plans Proceeded

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(C.P.)—Canada's chief of air staff and the head of the RCAF raid command will go along for the show this weekend when the United States National Guard in a mock-bombing attack on New York City.

SEVENTY YEARS AFTER he took up craft, Duncan Cameron, 83, is still stitching and sewing at his tailor's table in Lacombe and he contends the saying that there's nothing new under the sun applies to fashions more than anything else.

Nothing New in Fashion To Tailor For 70 Years

By Ken Liddell
Provincial News Editor

LACOMBE, Oct. 18.—Duncan Cameron—at 83 a very spry man with needle and thread who doesn't need his glasses to hit the eye of the needle—laid off his hat to the ladies of Lacombe.

"A lot of times," said Mr. Cameron, "we come in to have their dresses shortened and I don't blame them. The new look wasn't nearly as nice as the old."

For a man who has been a tailor for 70 years you would expect Mr. Cameron to report on many changes in styles, but he says the old saying that there's nothing new under the sun applies to styles more than anything else.

He brought out a book of 1912 styles for women and you had to agree when he said "there's not much difference."

Then they were wearing buttons on the bottom of the skirts and they were what today is known as a "shortie coat" only then it was called a loose swagger coat.

MEN THE SAME
Life said that in all those years men's styles have remained the same, fundamentally, and biggest difference has been the big swing from tailored-made suits to the "zip-off-the-rack" article.

And only difference in cloth, he said, was the price.

"We used to make a good tailor-made suit for $25, but now it would cost $75," said Mr. Cameron, who carries on his business in a workshop in basement of his home.

It was on Oct. 18, 1878, when he was 13 years of age and had a sixth standard education, that Mr. Cameron became a tailor's apprentice in Scotland.

"First thing we learned was how to hold a needle, then how to put in a plain seam and so on," he said, "and gradually you learned it all, but the most thing you learned more when you got out on your own."

Hardisty Threshing Is Nearly Complete

HARDISTY, Oct. 18.—Threshing is about finished in this district and a little combining remains to be done. The crops were generally good, although some summer wheat and barley yielded up to 20 bushels. Heaviest crops are on the lower lands, which were flooded from Battle River and Iron Creek in 1948 leaving reserve moisture.

Drumheller Service For Pioneer Woman

DRUMHELLER, Oct. 18.—Funeral service was held Saturday for Mrs. Anne Laura Drumheller, 70, pioneer member of the community and widow of Samuel Drumheller, who gave the city its name.

Funeral service was held in Knox United church with Rev. A. G. S. (Stuart) officiating. Burial will be at Walla Walla, Wash.

Mrs. Drumheller resided in this district for 35 years. She had been prominent in work for the Knox United church since 1910.

She is survived by a son, Les, manager of the Canadian Utilities plant here.

Vermilion Service For Thomas Mansell

VERMILION, Oct. 18.—Funeral service will be held on Oct. 19 in Vermilion, United church, for Thomas Mansell, whose death occurred Oct. 15 at the age of 70 years.

Service will be conducted by Rev. V. P. Cole of Mannville and burial will be in Innisfree cemetery.

Mr. Mansell is survived by four sons, Albert, of Detroit, George, of Yellowknife, Patrick, of Viking, and Robert, of Innisfree; a daughter, Mrs. L. J. J. of Innisfree, and two brothers in England.

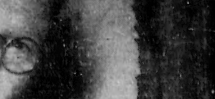

Maybe He Wants To Send Greetings

SPENCERHOLM, Oct. 18.—(C.P.)—Swedish artist Birger Jonsson is offering a 3,000-crown (about $1,000) prize to anyone who can produce "authentic proof" of the real cause of the original name of Bialla and Tio.

Joelyn Rogers of Edmonton, was guest artist.

Yellowhead Is Travelled

JASPER, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Bob Howarth of Jasper, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Ball, cabin operators, returned from Vancouver via Yellowhead route and reported a comfortable trip.

They motored to the west via Banff-Kingsgate and through Spokane, and saw nothing to come close to the beauty of the scenery of Yellowhead.

A great deal of mud in spots Mr. Howarth said, "but nothing a few loads of gravel would fix."

Mr. Howarth said that he had been on the road since the caravan in August and was still going on west of Rainbow. Mr. Howarth was driving a new car and didn't get even a small scratch on it.

Tractor Upsets Farmer Injured

RED DEER, Oct. 18.—Carl Lobb, farmer living five miles east of Red Deer, is in hospital recovering from injuries sustained when his tractor overturned.

Lobb lay in the field for two days before he was located by a neighbour. He was not pinned under the machine but was struck by it when it upset.

School Club Names Officers

WETASKIWIN, Oct. 18.—Art Broderick was elected president of the Lakeland Home and School Association at its annual meeting. Other officers are Mrs. Sebe Stewart, vice-president; Mrs. J. J. Nilsson, secretary-treasurer; Leonard Clark was elected chairman of the sports committee; Mrs. Joe Hoyle heads the social committee and Mrs. Bernadine Freeman was appointed reporter.

Proper heating of school buses during the winter months was taken up by the association and a committee was appointed to contact the school board.

The "Pigeon Valley Women's Institute" presented the school with $25 to be spent in books for the library. A new skating rink is to be constructed.

Legion Officers

HARDISTY, Oct. 18.—The Hardisty Canadian Legion branch held election of officers recently when Reg. Johnson was re-elected president and F. C. Paige was re-elected secretary. Treasurer is Jack Thorpe.

DIAPER DIPPING

He served a four-year apprenticeship and worked in the old country at the trade until advertisement called and he came to Canada in 1904 to homestead "like a darning fool" a mile from Stettler. This ended the same year when his home was destroyed by fire, so he moved to Drumheller, west of Stettler, and has been at it since.

An affable chap who wears two vests when working—he sticks the pocket and pins and things in the outer vest—Mr. Cameron still sticks to the tailor-made suits of his youth, but he has been made in Ontario because he is too busy to make them for himself.

He doesn't get out much because Mr. Cameron's spirit isn't ready to smelt these days, and in the time he spends reading to him he has picked up some facts of knowledge, including the fact that whenever you throw a piece of soap into the water, it floats up to the surface and then sinks.

He likes his papers from Scotland and he gets a wee bit nostalgic now and again when some woman comes in to have him make a suit for herself or her daughter.

A said artist, he said, is virtually the same as the kill worm by a man who he looks like a pointed one, but when one pierces him it is a kill, but when you see a group of people, each wearing a suit, then they become kills.
